The Origins and Creation of the British Security State, 1909-1919

Monday, 23 June 2008, 18.15

Großbritannien-Zentrum / Centre for British Studies
Mohrenstraße 60, Berlin-Mitte, Room 105

Next year we will celebrate (or commiserate) the 100th anniversary of the British Secret Service. Paul Maddrell will shed some light on its political and military history as well as its impact on 19th and 20th-century novels in Britain.

Paul Maddrell is lecturer at Aberystwyth University, Wales. He teaches International Politics and has been doing research on Intelligence, Security and International Politics in Britain and Germany. His book Spying on Science: Western Intelligence in Divided Germany, 1945-1961 has been published in 2006 by Oxford University Press.

The lecture will be held in English.
All are welcome. Admission free.
